Light Objects

The objects and lamps are made by manipulating a fibre material and paper, and by using a unique author technique.

This lampshade material is:

- Innovative, original and attracts attention,
- easy to shape, interesting forms of wide variety can be achieved,
- has a singular texture and creates an interplay of warm and cold tones,
- compliant for colouring; toning and painting on the surface are possible.

Raw materials: fibre, paper, additional materials in creating the light objects such as metal, textile, glass, porcelain, fire clay; crystal and wood may also be used.

The light objects

- always disperse the light,
- prevent a blinding effect by the sharp light of the bulb and strong contrasts,
- create a homey and comfortable atmosphere in the room,
- serve as a light source, a wall decor or a decorative sculpture,
- are light, have a long durability and are easy to maintain

The featured light objects and materials as well as the rhythm of colours and forms selected by the Workshop, creates a smooth and harmonious light, evoking an intimate and mysterious aura and reminding us of sunlight when we lack it.

The LAMP DESIGN WORKSHOP has been operating in Latvia for ten years, and is headed by AIGARS LENKEVICHS(1962), graduate of the Latvian Art Academy's Industrial Art Department(1986-1992), metalsmith, and now artistic lighting designer.

The designer is assisted and encouraged in his work by his companion, the owner of the company and graphic designer ERIKA MALDERE(1962), who graduated from the Latvian Art Academy's Graphic Department (1986-1992).

Both artists realize the importance of the role they play in creating the scenery of our daily lives through their lamps, which, of course, requires exceptional and original lighting.

"Our work is an attempt to change society's attitude toward indoor lighting, which is used daily, yet often unappreciated for its role in the creation of a utilitarian, and most importantly, cerebral environment. Light has the power to build a climate of harmony and rhythm, emanating a frequency of truth, healing, contentment and enlightenment."

The workshop's lamps can be seen in places where there are people who appreciate good lighting, who want a unique space that fulfills their imagination and allows fantasy to fly. Intriguing projects have been created in collaboration with architects and interior designers, some of which can be seen in Latvia's major shopping centers. The artists regularly take part in art and design exhibitions, and their work can be seen in several of Latvia's largest public spaces, private interiors and galleries.
